Curriculum and Classroom Updates

Reading and Writing

Currently, the kids are working on a project for their Newbery award winner book they have finished. This project focuses on writing summaries, character analysis, and vocabulary skills.

Math

We completed our geometry unit this week. Next week, we will be moving on to fractions, as well as continuing with multiplication testing.

Third Grade Performance

Stafford third graders will be having a music performance on February 23rd at 7:00pm in the MPR. The students will need to be in our classroom by 6:40pm, dressed in all black, with their recorders and halo (the holder for the recorder that goes around their neck). Also, if your child has sunglasses please bring those as well. This will be a fantastic night for the kids to show off all they are working on in music.

Animals

We continued our unit of study on animals this week. Next week, we will be focusing on animal habitats and note taking skills for our upcoming reports.

Quick Notes:
